There are other examples of symbolic objects in Munjado. They are bamboo in the paintings of the character chung (忠) and lotus flowers in the paintings of ui (義). Bamboo does not bend. It stays green in all kinds of weather. For these reasons, bamboo came to symbolize loyalty to the king. In the case of lotus flowers, they grow in muddy ponds but still bloom beautifully. They thus became a symbol of a person's will to fight for justice despite difficulties.

Munjado was much more than a painting to people of the Joseon dynasty. 그것은 그들에게 중요한 가치들을 상기시켰다, and the values greatly influenced their behaviors and attitudes. In particular, for children, Munjado was a study tool. Through it, children in the Joseon dynasty could learn the importance of harmony in family and society.
